High Court Lets Busing Plan Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court let stand today a massive busing plan for schools in Pontiac, Mich., and a finding that officials there intentionally promoted segregation.

The plan and the ruling, by U.S. District Judge Damon J. Keith of Detroit, had been appealed to the high court by school officials with the argument that whatever segregation exists in the industrial city 25 miles northwest of Detroit is a result of housing patterns.

While Keith charged the school board with locating new schools and arranging boundaries in such a way as to perpetuate segregation, the officials told the court in the petition filed Aug. 25 that they had tried to reduce racial imbalance even amid shifting populations.

The justices voted unanimously not to review Judge Keith's decision, sustained last May by the U.S. Circuit Court in Cincinnati. They did not make any comment on the issues.

Some 10,000 of the 24,000 public school children have been bused since the new term began Sept. 7. Thirty-two per cent of the school population in the automobile manufacturing center are black. The aim of the busing plan is to make each school 20 to 40 per cent black.

On the night of Aug. 30, 10 school buses were destroyed by bomb explosions. FBI agents subsequently made six arrests. Another 23 arrests were made by school officials in the first three days of classes.

Withdrawal Could Block Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's war critics are launching the next step in their drive to force U.S. withdrawal from Indochina amid indications the issue could become the single biggest stumbling block to adjournment of Congress by Dec. 1.

The battle this time revolves around an amendment to the $3.2 billion foreign aid authorization bill that calls for withdrawal of U.S. troops in six months. It also bars spending on U.S. military activity in Indochina except for withdrawal and protecting withdrawing forces from "imminent danger."

This amendment, unlike others, has been included in the aid bill by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Therefore, the burden will be on President Nixon's backers to remove or delete it.

The antiwar forces on the Foreign Relations panel have included a number of other amendments, including a $250 million ceiling on U.S. activities in Cambodia similar to the $350 million limit on American activities in Laos voted in the military procurement bill last month.

Committee members say they are confident the Senate will uphold the dual antiwar amendment. Approval of the fund cut-off provision by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, would make it the first time the Senate has ever cut off money for the war.

Twice in recent months the Senate has voted to set a deadline on U.S. operations in Indochina, calling 61 to 38 last June for a nine-month deadline and 57 to 38 last month for a six-month deadline.

Jumbo Jet Is Hijacked to Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — A Boeing 747 jumbo jet hijacked by a gunman remained grounded in Cuba today. Federal officials said three sky marshals and an off-duty FBI agent were aboard the plane carrying 221 passengers when it was commandeered.

A federal Aviation Administration official said that although the pilot of the American Airlines plane had kept two engines running when it landed at Havana's Jose Marti Airport in hopes of an early departure, it had not been released by Cuba authorities.

Yellowstone's Famed Cauldrons Changing

By JIM KLAHN

Associated Press Writer
YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (AP) — The most active of Yellowstone National Park's famed cauldrons, fueled deep in the earth and pushed to the surface to bubble in mud pots and erupt in geysers, are going through some radical changes.

Park geologists and naturalists say the present level of change in thermal phenomena in the Norris Geyser Basin is the greatest since the Hege Lake earthquake shook the northern part of the 2,221,000-acre park in the summer of 1959 and killed 28 persons.

Bill Dummire, the park's naturalist, said there appeared no threat of earthquakes or more dangerous thermal activity. But there is speculation the fluctuations in geysers, hot springs and pools may create more permanent alterations by the time the park marks its 100th anniversary next year.

The most recent fluctuation in the basin came when a hot pool suddenly erupted to about 30 feet. The pool continued to spout hot water and steam for a few minutes, then settled back to its placid self.

Park authorities said the changes began in early September, with fluctuations noted in more than 100 steaming geysers, mud pots, hot springs and pools. On one occasion, they said, almost every significant feature in a portion of the Nor-

Brezhnev Is Heckled in France

By STEPHENS BROENING
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — Leonid E. Brezhnev ignored scattered shouts of hostility today as he rode in an open car along the Champs Elysees to lay a wreath at the tomb of France's unknown soldier under the Arc de Triomphe.

Several persons in the thin crowds along the avenue were arrested for shouting hostile slogans.

There were more cheers than boos from the sparse crowds along the avenue.

From the arch, Brezhnev drove to the City Hall to greet the Paris Municipal Council. Some 3,000 spectators cheered Brezhnev and there was no sign here of hostile demonstrators.

The Soviet proposal for a European security conference is a major topic in the talks between Brezhnev and Pompidou.

Both men emphasized the conference proposal in speeches Monday night, the first evening of Brezhnev's official visit to Paris. Pompidou broke new ground for France in calling for a start to firm preparations for the conference "as soon as possible."

Pompidou reminded Brezhnev that France's attachment to the West and its alliances "are an integral part of its policies." But he said in a dinner toast: "We think there is no obstacle to the opening in Helsinki, as soon as possible, of the multilateral phase of preparations for the conference."

He said this has been made possible by West Germany's border treaties with the Soviet Union and Poland, the conclusion of a Big Four agreement on Berlin, and the start of talks between the two Germanies to implement the Berlin pact.

Stunning U.S. Defeat as UN Ousts Taiwan and Admits Red China

Rogers Thinks UN Living Beyond Means

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said today the expulsion of Nationalist China from the United Nations was a regrettable act that could adversely affect the future of the world body.

The secretary told newsmen the Nixon administration will, however, respect the majority decision of the United Nations in expelling the government on Taiwan.

Rogers said "This administration deeply regrets the expulsion of the Republic of China and thinks the precedent is a most unfortunate one and will have adverse affects in the future."

He expressed hope, however, the United Nations won't be weakened. But he pointedly told reporters the world organization faces a financial crisis which will take deep consideration by members.

While denying the Nixon administration would attempt to retaliate against the United Nations over the China question, Rogers did say the financial situation is a serious one.

There is "another problem," he said, "of whether the United Nations is living beyond its means ... I think that may be the case."

He said there are some in the Senate who think the United States is sharing too great a burden of the U.N., which faces near bankruptcy.

Sen. James L. Buckley, Con.-R.-N.Y., announced immediately after the 76-33 expulsion vote that he is drafting legislation for a major reduction of the U.S. financial contribution to the United Nations.

U.S. 'Friends' Voted for Red Resolution

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly voted Monday night to admit Communist China to the United Nations and expel Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist regime in a major defeat for the United States.

By a vote of 76 to 35, with 17 abstentions, the assembly adopted an Albanian resolution recognizing representatives of the People's Republic of China as "the only legitimate representatives of China" to the United Nations and expelling "forthwith the representatives of Chiang Kai-shek."

Earlier in the night the assembly voted 59 to 55, with 15 abstentions, to reject a U.S. resolution to make expulsion of the Nationalists an "important question" requiring a two-thirds majority for adoption.

Among the U.S. allies who broke with Washington and voted against the U.S. resolution were Britain, Canada, Denmark, France, Norway and Pakistan. Belgium and Italy abstained.

As it turned out, the Albanian resolution got more than a two-thirds majority. Its adoption killed a rival U.S. resolution to provide "dual representation," for both the Communists and the Nationalists, a situation Peking said repeatedly it would not accept.

The Nationalists did not wait for the final vote. After defeat of the "important question" resolution, Foreign Minister Chow Shu-kai led his delegation out, ending the Chinese Republic's 26 years as a charter member of the United Nations.

"We have severed our connection with this building," said a member of the delegation from Taiwan.

Less than an hour after the Albanian resolution was adopted at 11:17 p.m. EDT, Secretary-General U Thant called the text to Peking as notification that the People's Republic was finally in after 22 years of trying.

There was no immediate response or comment from Peking.

From the rostrum, Vice Foreign Minister Reis Malile of Albania called the outcome "a victory for the peace-loving peoples and a great defeat for the United States of America." Sir Colin Crowe of Britain termed it a "return to reality."

U.S. Ambassador George Bush told reporters: "The U.N. has crossed a dangerous bridge, the bridge of expulsion. ... I hope the U.N. will not relive this moment of infamy."

Hope Foods, Inc. Plant to Be Dedicated Here October 28

Hope Foods, Inc. and Corn Belt Hatcheries Feed Mill will be dedicated in ceremonies her Thursday, October 28 with Governor Dale Bumpers making the dedicatory address.

Dedication of the chicken processing plant, located in the Proving Ground, will be held at 3:30 p.m. and the Feed Mill at 4 p.m.

Besides the governor many other dignitaries will attend.

Hope Foods Corporation recently completed a $600,000 poultry processing and canning plant. This is the only in-line processing plant in the country. The birds are brought in live at night and are killed, dressed, canned and cooked in one operation the following day. The plant has 23,500 square feet and is equipped to process six (6) million hens per year. These hens are laid-out table egg producers, which have finished laying and have been moving out of the state for processing; most of them are being shipped to Missouri and Nebraska. It is anticipated that most of these hens will come from Arkansas farms, which produce 13 million hens annually. The birds will be brought in from the farms in specially built eight tier racks on dollies which can be rolled between cage rows in modern commercial hen houses using a minimum amount of labor. Each rack contains 200 hens. This method of loading hens will save local farmers 50 percent on cost of loading their hens.

The hens are hung on the killing line and are passed mechanically through the scalding and pickling, which is specially designed to meet the most rigid inspection requirements. This system is an 80-foot totally enclosed cabinet in which a steam vapor is sprayed on the birds eliminating scalding vats of dirty water. After they are scalded they pass through the mechanical pickers and are transferred into the eviscerating room via a stainless steel chute.

In the eviscerating room the birds are hung on another mechanical conveyor line which passes by those performing the eviscerating and the U.S.D.A. inspectors which check the birds individually for wholesomeness. They are then sorted into vats for transfer into the canning room where they are placed in cans. After adding seasonings, the cans are sealed and placed in large baskets in preparation for cooking in giant pressure cookers. Here they are cooked for eighty (80) minutes at precise temperature and pressure. The cans are then labeled and packed twelve (12) per case. Most of these will be labeled LADY HOPE and shipped to your local grocery distribution house; others will be private labeled with individual brand names. New products such as chicken and dumplings and chicken and rice will be added as the efficiency of the plant improves.

Presently approximately sixty-five (65) people are employed and twenty-five (25) additional people will be needed when the plant gets into full production with an annual payroll of one half million dollars.

AF Changing Orders for Some Men

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Nixon's troop withdrawal announcement only weeks away, the Air Force has told personnel some Vietnam tours may be cut short and men awaiting orders for Southeast Asia may receive different assignments.

An Air Force message to all commands advises that future operational programming in Southeast Asia may result in considerable turbulence in the assignment of personnel to and within that area.

"It cannot be predicted at this time just how much our normal assignment policies and procedures will be affected," the message said. "However, it is to our advantage to prepare Air Force personnel for any contingency by alerting them to some of the measures which may become necessary on a short notice."

Although the Air Force emphasized that the message, sent Sept. 17, was "precautionary in nature," it included detailed instructions on how to handle men whose orders are changed or cancelled at the last minute.

"Pentagon officials said word had not yet come from the White House on how large a withdrawal to expect from Nixon, who has promised an announcement about Nov. 15."

Nevertheless, the message—the first sent by the Air Force prior to a pullout announcement—was seen as one more indication Nixon may be preparing something dramatic.

Until now it had been widely assumed that most Air Force units would remain behind in support of the South Vietnamese after the withdrawal of U.S. ground troops.

Current troop withdrawals have been averaging about 15,000 men a month. A speedup of 20,000 would leave 40,000 men in Vietnam by the end of June, which has long been expected by most observers.

But there have been hints in recent weeks of an even faster pullout.

In an Oct. 13 news conference, Nixon said that by the time of his visit to Moscow in May "we trust that we will have accomplished that goal of ending U.S. involvement in Vietnam," or at least have made significant progress toward accomplishing that goal.

U.S. troop strength in Vietnam now stands at about 202,000, of which about 35,000 are Air Force personnel.

In its message, the Air Force said volunteers for Thailand and Vietnam "may be diverted at the last moment," or reassigned even after arriving at their new posts; "overseas reassignments may be cancelled at the last moment"; and "there may be instances where personnel will not serve the full RVN (Republic of Vietnam) or Thailand tour for which selected."

Princess Is In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP) — Britain's Princess Anne arrived today for a seven-day visit to this British colony at the south-eastern tip of China, her first overseas trip alone as an official of the royal family.

Hong Kong's acting governor, Sir Hugh Norman-Walker, greeted the princess when she arrived from Turkey on a Royal Air Force VC10.

Police took elaborate security precautions in the wake of published reports that the princess would be the target of protest demonstrations.

Kosygin to Dispel Cuban Worries

By GEORGE GEDDA
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials expect Prime Minister Alexei Kosygin will try to dispel any worries the Cubans may have about President Nixon's visit to Moscow in May.

Kosygin, flying from Toronto to Havana today, is expected to try to reassert the Kremlin's friendship and influence with its Caribbean ally.

U.S. officials predict that Kosygin will tell Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro the Soviet Union does not view its support for Cuba as an issue open to negotiation on Nixon's visit.

It is also expected Kosygin will use the visit to reassert Soviet primary in Cuba in the Sino-Soviet struggle for influence in Communist-ruled nations.

icy relations between Peking and Havana thawed earlier this year with the arrival, for the first time in five years, of a Chinese ambassador in Cuba.

Kosygin last visited Cuba in 1967 following his meeting at Glassboro, N.J., with former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Moscow-Havana relations were at such a low point then that no communique was issued after the four-day visit.

U.S. officials believe Castro's overt support for revolution in Latin America was the major irritant in Cuban relations with the Soviets, who have quietly tried to improve ties with Latin American nations.

Havana-Moscow relations took a dramatic turn for the better in 1968 after Castro gave enthusiastic support to the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

U.S. officials say the Kremlin leadership also apparently has become resigned to Castro's continuing attempts to promote revolution.

Since 1968, Soviet economic and military aid to Cuba has been on the increase.

Kosygin's visit is expected to coincide with the arrival at a Cuban port of a six-vessel Soviet task force, including a cruiser and at least one submarine.

Pentagon officials say they do not look upon the task force visit with alarm, noting a number of precedents to such ship movements.

Now Instant Building Is Emerging

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Construction begins today on a five-story motel that is scheduled to be ready for occupancy in less time than it usually takes to confirm reservations by mail—6 to 10 days.

Bedrooms for the motel, modules prefabricated in a factory, are being delivered replete with carpeting, chests, chairs and beds with pads, sheets, blankets, pillows and bedspreads. Telephone and plumbing equipment is included—even towels, soap, glasses, ash trays and Gideon Bibles.

Other modules make up the corridors, stairways, lobby, restaurants and meeting room for the 162-unit motel.

The units are equipped with a mechanical-electrical modular system which will be "plugged in" to utility lines.

The factory-made units undergo in-plant inspection by local building inspectors. Then the units are sealed in a plastic bag for shipment by truck or train.

The prefabricated modules to be used in the construction of a Holiday Inn in the Chicago suburb of Itasca are made by Anvan Industries of nearby Elk Grove. The company says the motel will be ready for business within 10 days.

The first module is to be put in place by a huge crane at a signal from Anvan President Anthony A. Antoniou, 45, and Peter Fosco, president of the International Laborers Union.

The crane will stack the modules on the site to form the structure. The modules will be aligned and interconnected by braces, bolts and connectors, but no additional steel framing will be required, the company said.

U.S. Will Continue to Recognize and Aid Nationalist China

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The expulsion of the Nationalist Chinese from the United Nations is a major defeat for the Nixon administration, but the United States might obtain some benefits in the long run.

As a point of fact, the 76-35 vote Monday night throwing the Taiwan government out of the world organization will not affect relations with the Nationalist regime.

The United States has a defense treaty with Taiwan as well as other diplomatic and commercial commitments. These will be maintained, according to U.S. officials.

These officials also point out the United States still recognizes the Chiang Kai-shek government, and will continue to do so, while there are still no official U.S. relations with the Communist regime on the mainland.

And while the U.N. defeat is harsh medicine for a world power to swallow, some diplomatic sources say the final result may be a healthier world climate.

They explain the absence of the Nationalists from the U.N. may make it a bit easier for President Nixon in his effort to improve U.S. relations with Peking, even though his administration fought hard against Taiwan's expulsion.

"It's one less obstacle the mainland government can bring up when Nixon goes to Peking," one official of an Asian nation said.

The vote also makes it likely Peking will accept the U.N. seat, a goal Nixon sought by sponsoring a resolution calling for membership for the mainland government.

Even the tough U.S. fight to avoid expulsion won't be held against Nixon too much, another diplomat said, pointing to the mainland trip taken by presidential adviser Henry Kissinger while the membership debate was going on.

The administration still has problems, some of which may be intensified by the U.N. vote. One will be convincing Taiwan it means what it says in reaffirming previous commitments.

Another will be handling a budding congressional move to cut back the large American financial contribution for the United Nations.

A bill to that effect is being prepared by New York's Republican-Conservative Sen. James Buckley. And, while the administration was ambivalent about such a threat earlier this month, officials recently have said they would oppose such a reduction.

One diplomat at the U.N. summed up the situation when he said at the outset of the debate, "Expulsion of the Nationalists will give America a black eye, but all black eyes eventually go away."

Keep Out' sign at the reservoir," the committee asserted.

The committee said the Soil Conservation Service's "failure to require public access to the lakes it finances, including those where private developers participate in their construction, is contrary to the national outdoor recreation policy established by Congress in 1963 'that all American people ... be assured adequate outdoor recreation resources.'"

About 4,000 lakes—ranging from five to 1,000 acres—have been built and 2,000 more are planned under the SCS-aided program, the committee said, with only 386 of the existing ones having provisions for public access and use.

"At most reservoir lakes financed by SCS, the owners of the ground under and around the lake retain exclusive control over access to the lake, the committee said. "As a result of this SCS policy, the public cannot use the reservoir lakes constructed with federal funds unless permitted by the private owners."

"Furthermore," the report continued, "this SCS policy severely hampers future development and use of the area for fish and wildlife management and public recreation, and confers upon a few individuals a tax-created windfall of exclusive and private access as well as increased property values."

During his talk, Parsons said the 55 buses on the streets caused extra traffic problems.

He said that there was also the time factor involved. He said that the most time any one student would spend daily on a bus was 1½ hours. However, he said the students needed play time and time away from school work.

Parsons also said that with the school buses there was an additional discipline problem while the students were on the buses.

Action Could Force Out Chiang Regime

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Nationalist China's expulsion from the United Nations gave new impetus today to demands that the native Taiwanese be given a voice in Chiang Kai-shek's regime.

The defeat of the U.S. attempt to save the Nationalists and at the same time invite Peking into the world organization also put new pressures on the Japanese government of Prime Minister Eisaku Sato, which joined in sponsoring the unsuccessful U.S. resolutions.

Peking was silent on the U.N. action. A Foreign Ministry official, reached by telephone from Tokyo, said his government didn't give out "information over international telephone calls."

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, reported that the General Assembly had adopted "the resolution restoring the legitimate rights of the People's Republic of China in the United Nations," but the vote came too late for editorial comment in Moscow morning newspapers.

Havana Radio said the assembly action was "the worst diplomatic defeat for the United States in the history of the United Nations."

The only official comment from the Nationalist government on Taiwan was a six-page statement made to newsmen in New York by Foreign Minister Chow Shu-kai. He said the Republic of China had been denied its rightful place in the United Nations and the U.N. Charter had been violated.

Other Foreign Ministry officials in Taipei expressed shock and disappointment; they had hoped the expulsion would be postponed until next year.

U.N. recognition of Peking's control of the mainland was a blow to the Nationalist regime's contention that it represents all China, and to its position that national elections cannot be held in Taiwan because it can't also hold them on the mainland.

Faubus, Wife Moving Into the Mansion

HUNTSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Former Gov. Orval Faubus says he and his second wife, Elizabeth, are moving back to Faubus' house at Huntsville.

The big Faubus house at Huntsville became political controversy during its construction when the Republican party revealed the size of the place. The cost of the home has not been learned but Faubus said it was $100,000.

Faubus said they decided to move to the house because "we are paying off the mortgage on it and we decided that it was expensive to be paying for two homes at the same time."

Faubus, who ended six terms in the governor's office in 1966, has been living in Harrison for the past two years.

The former governor, who made an unsuccessful bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination last year, says he does not plan to live in the house indefinitely. He says he wants to turn the house into a library, even though Faubus plans to remain in Huntsville.

While living in Huntsville, Faubus says he does not intend to have any connection with the Huntsville paper, which went to his first wife, Mrs. Alta Faubus, as part of their divorce settlement. The house went to Faubus.

Faubus said he did not anticipate any conflict in moving to Huntsville where his first wife lives.

Showers Are Expected in Arkansas

Showers are expected to begin in the western section of Arkansas this afternoon.

A frontal system that was located along the eastern slopes of the Rockies this morning is drifting eastward and will trigger the shower activity in Arkansas. The moisture and the chance of showers in the state has increased because of a southerly wind flow which has returned to Arkansas.

The showers are expected to spread over the state Wednesday.

No important temperature change is expected.

Highs Monday were in the upper 70s and low 80s. Highs today and Wednesday should be near 80. Low tonight should be in the mid to upper 50s.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 49, Harrison 53, Jonesboro 50, Pine Bluff 52, Memphis 55, Little Rock 52, Fort Smith 54, Texarkana 58 and El Dorado 49.

No rainfall was reported during the 24-hour period ended at 7 a.m.

Classes Are Resumed at Shorter

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Classes resumed as normal at Shorter College here Monday but school officials said they were busy attempting to find housing for students after the city condemned their dormitories.

"We are placing students as we find housing available," said Oley L. Griffin, the acting president.

Classes were suspended at the school last week when about 40 students took control of the school's administration building in protest of the facilities at the school and the resignation of the school's president, Lonnie Johnson.

Griffin said Monday that the students left the administration building "good shape."

At noon a luncheon was served at a table decorated in the Halloween motif by Mrs. Thelma Smith. Then, the club members sang several songs led by the Rev. George Hooten, who also offered prayer to conclude the meeting.

Friday Bridge Club

A local Friday Bridge Club met with Mrs. H.C. Whitworth on October 22, and blue hydrangeas decorated the home. The two tables of players included a club guest, Mrs. Claud Garner.

High scorers for the afternoon were Mrs. Tom Kinser and Mrs. R.E. Jackson. The hostess served mince meat pie and coffee for refreshments.

Third District Arts and Crafts

The Third District Arts and Crafts Association will meet Thursday, October 28 at the lake home of Judge and Mrs. Royce Weisenberger on Millwood. Members and their guests are asked to meet at 7 p.m., and members are to bring a salad or dessert.

This is also the time to renew your membership and to enjoy a Fish Fry with the Weisenbergers. If you are unsure of directions, you may inquire at Saratoga Landing for the way to the Weisenberger home.

If you are interested in painting or handicraft, you may join the organization to further the arts in Hempstead County. This group has redone one of the old barns in Fair Park for their annual art show and plan many more improvements with the help of the Third District.

Over $400 in prizes were given this year at the show, and each year it is hoped that this can be raised. The judge from Little Rock who spent more than a day judging the show was surprised that so many talented people lived in and around Hope, and that we could put together such a good show. He said it was, indeed, a credit to a town this size and urged several exhibitors to enter the Art Show in Little Rock this coming month.

Coming, Going

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henley have returned from Houston, where last week they attended the National Congress of the Parks and Recreation Association.

Velora Bright, Margie Vickers and Dolores McBride attended the U of A-N. Texas football game in Fayetteville Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. F.C. Crow spent the weekend in Ft. Smith with Dr. and Mrs. Neil E. Crow and family and Dr. and Mrs. R.C. Goodman and family.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — "The Electric Company," this season's product of the Children's Television Workshop, is aimed at viewers aged seven to 10 and designed to improve their reading skills.

Available on the nation's educational stations and, hopefully, some of the commercial stations, it is a funny, bright and gentle half hour. Even if you are years beyond the target audience, it is more fun to watch than a lot of the adult programs on network prime time.

The program, in its premiere show, produced considerable star power including Bill Cosby and Rita Moreno, but the actors perform as a merry team concentrating on turning learning into a joyous series of games and gags.

The troupe plunged into a complicated variation of scrabble designed to show the uses and the two pronunciations of the letter "G" and the words that use them. Then followed songs, gags, sketches—even a spoof of a soap opera—designed to drive home the day's painless lessons.

Some of the more fast-moving innovations of "Laugh-In" were adapted to the show—uninhibited and mildly satiric bits illustrated the lesson. The young viewer's familiarity with television, from "Get Smart" to cartoons, was used to make the program's points.

"The Electric Company" is more than a worthy addition to "Sesame Street," the trail blazer that set high standards in what has generally been a shabby area of television. Since the new series is aimed at an older audience, it can be an 'is funnier and more subtle.

CBS still holds a slim lead in the national ratings race. A little more than a point—about 1.2 million viewers a week—separates CBS from NBC in the week's Nielsens, with ABC dropping back a bit from its challenge of NBC for second place.

NBC's most popular show during the week ending Oct. 17 was the first nighttime World Series baseball game. It was seen on more than half of the TV sets in use at the time. NBC's "Flip Wilson Show" was second and ABC's "Marcus Welby, M.D." third.

ASC Committee Nominations Are Invited

Hempstead County farmers are sending in their nomination petition for candidates for ASC community committeemen says Ralph Montgomery, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

This year the election of ASC committeemen will be held December 1. All petitions to nominate candidates must be filed at the County ASCS Office by close of business October 27.

A recent change in election procedures permits petitions to be filed when signed by only 3 qualified farm voters, instead of 6 as required last year. Also, the petition, or an accompanying signed piece of paper, must contain a statement that the candidate is willing to serve if elected. Petitions are still limited to one nominee each, but farmers may sign as many petitions as they wish.

If a community doesn't nominate a full slate of 6 candidates, the community committee will add the number of names required to fill out the slate. In all communities in the county where there are a number of negro farmers, if their community committees have to complete the slate of 6 candidates, the committee must make sure that the minority group is represented.

"We're hoping to have the full support of the farm community this year in nominating, voting for, and in willingness to run as committeemen candidates," he said.

Each ASC community will elect 3 regular community committeemen and 2 alternates to represent the community. Three committeemen from each community will serve as delegates to the county convention where farmers will be elected to fill vacancies and name officers for the County ASC Committee.

The County Committee locally administers farm action programs. Community committees help keep farmers in their districts informed of changes in program provisions and other farm program news.

"Together, the community and county committees serve as representatives of farmers, and as spokesmen for the Department of Agriculture in Washington, for such farm programs as REAP, cotton, feed grain, and price support programs," Mr. Montgomery said.

Male and female farm owners, tenants, and sharecroppers, of legal voting age, are eligible to participate in ASCS programs and take part in ASC committeemen elections regardless of race, color, creed, sex or national origin.

Other details on voting and committeemen requirements are available at the County ASCS Office, located in the Federal Post Office Building in Hope. The telephone number is 777-3764.

Stash Cash

There are always the fun times when carrying a pocketbook would seem to be too troublesome. But then there is always the remembrance of your dad's warning saying always carry some money with you. THE GENERATION RAP

—by Helen and Sue Bottel

DIRTY OLD MAN OR SNEAKY YOUNG LADY?

Dear Rap:

The uncle of my ex-boyfriend is about 45, has a sweet wife and two children, is a friend of my family's and is a Dirty Old Man! He wants me to sneak out and go with him. If I turn him down, he'll tell my parents a bunch of stuff he knows about me, and I'll get beat and also watched like a hawk until I leave home, which won't be for another two years, darn it.

Here's the story: "Unk" (let's call him) is a big flirt and I goofed around with him a lot but always thought he was kidding. He knows more than he should—like how I sneak out on dates because my father is mean as sin. Maybe his nephew told him something, too. Anyway, I thought I could trust him. He always seems to be on the kids' side, so you tell him a lot. That was a mistake!

Last night, he gave me a ride home, and an unfatherly kiss. Then he said he wanted to take me out, and he knew I could manage it because I was good at sneaking.

What it added up to was that if I didn't go with him, he'd tell my folks about my "past." He was pretty cool, but I got the message. And my dad would believe a friend before he'd believe his daughter, especially since I haven't exactly been the ideal teenager.

I don't want to go with a dirty old married man, but how am I going to get out of it?

DISGUSTED BY D.O.M.

HELEN'S VIEWS

Dear Dis:

He probably figures a hot number should share the warmth.

When you let a "D.O.M." know you sneak out and fool around, then play up to his flirting, you can't expect a "father image." But when he comes on like a blackmailer, you can slap him down fast with: "Want to go out with me? Look, you ask my father, and I'll ask your wife."—HELEN

SUE'S ANSWER

Dear Dis:

The Dirty Old Man has a lot more to lose than you have—his wife and kids, his reputation, and probably a lot of skin if your father finds you two together.

I have a small hunch you're tempted—maybe because you figure this is a great way to "get even" with a family you resent, or perhaps because you're bored and looking for excitement.

Play it safe, "Dis": Ignore "Unk the Skunk" until he goes away.—SUE

Dear Sue and Helen:

I'm 15 and just heard the worst news of my life. Mom and Dad are going to separate. I've told them how awful I feel and they don't seem to hear me. There's this terrible quiet. Nobody says a word to anybody. Would it help if my brother and I ran away? Maybe looking for us would bring them back together.—N.N.

Dear N.:

Running away won't solve the problem. It might push your folks farther apart. If they aren't happy together, a separation may be better for all of you, even though it hurts awfully at first. (You aren't the only victim of a broken home; they're miserable, too—which is why they don't seem to hear you.)

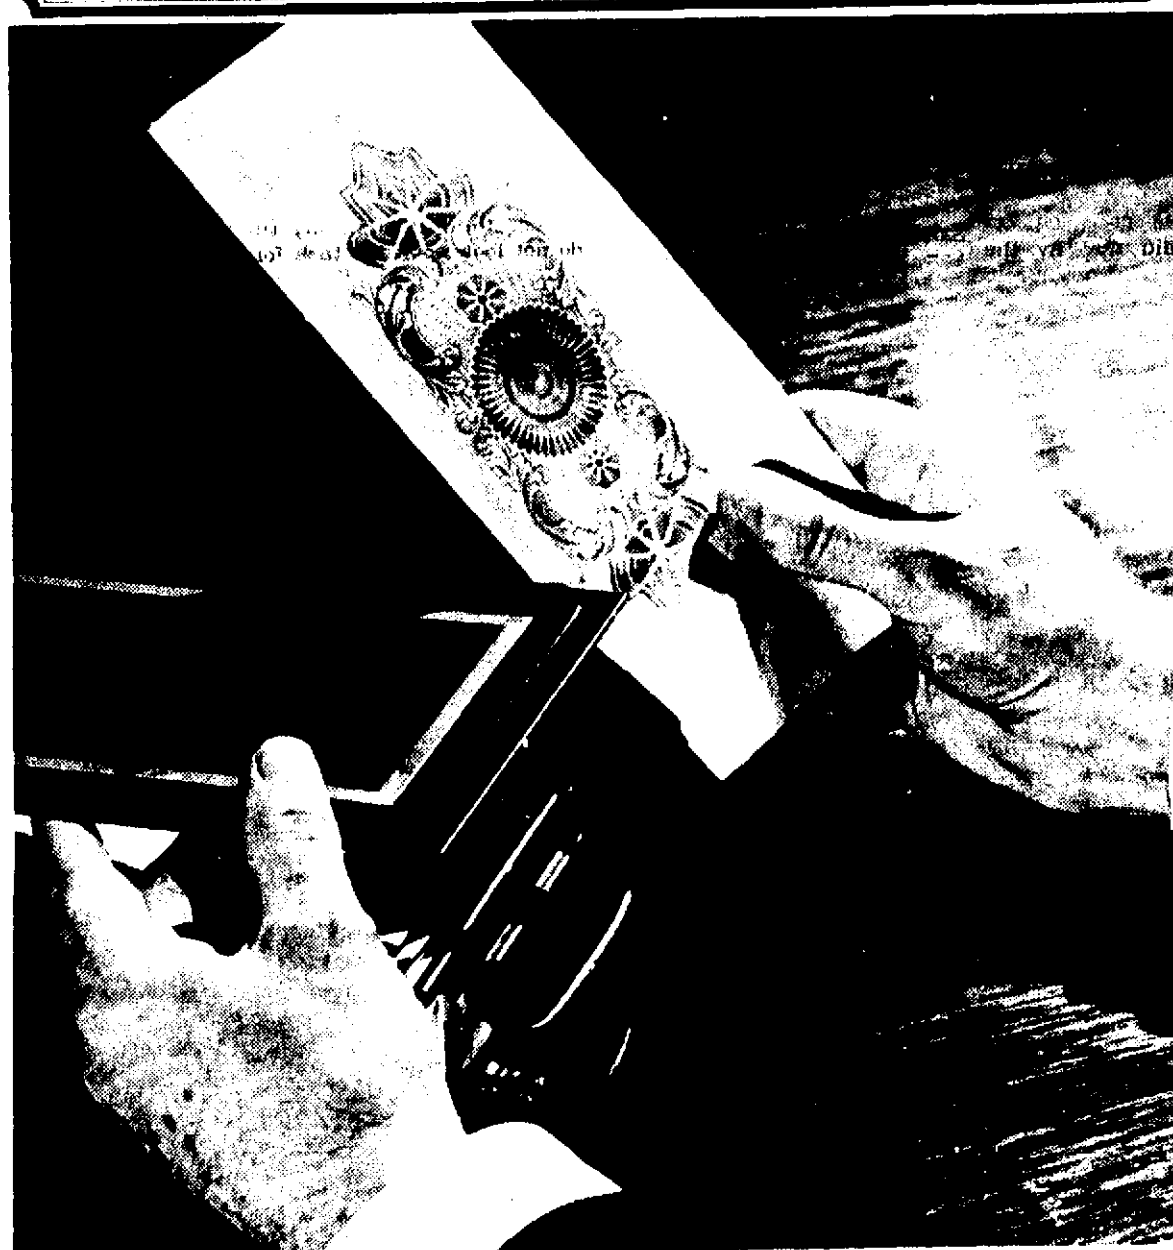

Remember, married people can stop loving each other, just as you and your boyfriend could. Try to see their side.—SUE

Dear N.:

But sometimes married people only THINK they have stopped loving each other. If you can break through that wall of silence and get them talking, maybe you'll have two real parents again.—HELEN

Hogs Climb One Notch in Rating

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
... and the beat goes on—the beatings which Oklahoma hand out, bringing the Sooners ever closer to the top of The Associated Press college football poll.

Nebraska, however, pounding Oklahoma State 41-13, remained No. 1. The defending national champion Cornhuskers amassed 31 first-place votes and 1,044 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters. A week ago they had 35 and 1,046 points.

But the Sooners, crushing Kansas State 75-28, edged within 20 points of the top, garnering 21 first-place votes and 1,020 points. Only two weeks ago they moved past Michigan into second and within 168 of the Cornhuskers. Last week they slashed the margin to 38, collecting 18 top votes and 1,008 points.

Michigan, Alabama and Auburn, each receiving one of the remaining first-place votes, stayed third, fourth and fifth.

Michigan, whipping Minnesota 35-7, received 883 points. Alabama got 788 after defeating Houston 34-20 and Auburn, a 35-13 victor over Clemson, picked up 637.

The first big casualty was Notre Dame, tumbling from sixth to 12th following a 28-14 loss to Southern California. That gave Penn State, Georgia, and Arkansas a chance to take one step forward.

The sixth-place Nittany Lions clubbed Texas Christian 66-14, the Bulldogs silenced Kentucky 34-0 and the No. 8 Razorbacks bombed North Texas State 60-21.

Also skidding badly was Stanford, falling seven slots to 17th

Hughes Had Disease of Arteries

DETROIT (AP)—While the heart cannot be blamed for the fatal attack which killed star 1974 Detroit Lions Chuck Hughes, a team physician said Monday he would have advised Hughes to quit had he known the wide receiver suffered from a disease of the arteries.

Dr. Edward Guise, who announced the findings of an autopsy performed on Hughes by the Wayne County medical examiner, said the 28-year-old player suffered from hardening of the arteries which had cut off 70 per cent of his circulation.

Guise said that Hughes died when a blood clot blocked the remaining flow of blood to his heart. For all practical purposes, Guise said, Hughes died on the field where he fell in the closing seconds of the Lions Sunday game with the Bears at Tiger Stadium.

Guise and Dr. Richard Thompson, another team physician, said Hughes' condition worsened in any situation—including football—which caused him stress, physical or emotional.

Thompson said the disease would have killed Hughes eventually.

The doctors said that Hughes' collision with two Bears players three plays prior to his collapse did not precipitate the heart attack "except that it may have provided more stress."

It is also undetermined whether Hughes' death is related to a Sept. 4 pre-season game injury which led the player to complain of abdominal pains. A complete checkup—including cardiogram and arteriogram—following his injury failed to reveal any heart problems, Guise said.

However, Guise said, it is "unfortunately very routine to miss symptoms of arteriosclerotic disease (artery hardening)." He said Hughes himself probably did not know he had the illness.

Rice Coach Wants Image Changed

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Sports Writer
HOUSTON (AP)—It might be some indication of just how far off the football map Rice University is that one fellow thinks Rice is in Massachusetts.

"We're well known in academic circles throughout the country," head coach Bill Peterson said. "But nobody knows about us in football."

Peterson said he was listening to his car radio recently when the subject of Rice University came up.

"This one guy was talking and he thought Rice was in Massachusetts," Peterson said. "I want to change that. I think we have a great opportunity here."

One of Peterson's announced intentions at Rice was to bring Rice football up to the level of Rice academics. A 1-5 season is getting in the way, including a 39-10 loss to the University of Texas last Saturday.

"We've got to have an equalizer," Peterson told the Quarterback Club Monday. "And that equalizer is going to be a passing attack."

"We probably could have gone with some other kind of offense and made fewer mistakes this year but you don't develop a passing game in one year and running some other offense isn't going to help your passing game."

Peterson said mistakes have been killing the Owls all season. They've lost the ball 29 times on fumbles and interceptions, including six interceptions and two fumbles to Texas.

"You can't have the turnovers we do and expect to win," he said.

Peterson said he never had a team that had yielded as many

Royal Says Squad Now Better

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas seeks to end a two-game Cotton Bowl losing streak when it meets an SMU team Saturday that Longhorns coach Darrell Royal says is a "better football team" since it scrapped a wish-bone offense for its old familiar "T" formation.

Royal told a news conference Monday his squad was better than it was a week ago despite the apparent loss of Jerry Sisemore with a foot injury.

Royal said Texas, which beat Rice 20-10 last Saturday after successive losses to Oklahoma and Arkansas, had improved 25 per cent and was "better than average." The previous Monday he had said the Longhorns were "just average."

Sisemore is the 12th Longhorn starter to miss part of the season, and Royal said "it's a tremendous loss. Sisemore is rated with talent, one of the better football players around here in a long time."

Information from the team doctor indicated Sisemore had sprained the arch of his foot and suffered a toe injury "like Eddie (Phillips)."

Phillips has hardly played since the opening game Sept. 18 against UCLA because of leg and toe injuries. Royal said "hopefully" he could resume practice next Monday.

Royal said SMU is "much improved over the first of the season." He described the Longhorns as one which will "give you a lot of zero yardage plays. They're not afraid to come up and get next to you."

SMU and Texas have both beaten Rice and Texas Tech and lost to Oklahoma. But SMU is 2-0 while Texas was defeated by Arkansas and is 2-1 in the Southwest Conference.

Texas, however, has lost the last two times it has played in the Cotton Bowl—by 24-11 to Notre Dame in the Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl and 48-27 to Oklahoma Oct. 9.

Asked if the lineup of some hurt players had plugged holes in the Longhorn lineup, Royal said, "yes, partially, but it upsets me that we can't get players at one position for two weeks" because of the shuffling required by injuries.

Left offensive tackle Julius Whittier will move to right tackle to replace Sisemore, and backup center Bill Wyman will switch to his old job at left tackle this week.

A surprise change puts sophomore Mike McCulloch, who has not played, at No. 2 quarterback behind Donnie Wigginton.

Alan Lowry, starting defensive back for two years, worked out at quarterback Monday but is not counted on to see game action in that role this year.

Lowry was a high school quarterback at Irving and will be given a shot at the job in spring training next year. His work as man-under Monday gave the team better passing practice because Wigginton's injured ribs still hampered his throwing.

Three Longhorns are scheduled for knee operations Wednesday, which will make them miss the remainder of the season even if Texas should go to a bowl game. They are starting split receiver Jim Moore, defensive co-captain Stan Mauldin and reserve Keifer Marshall.

Royal singled out linebacker Tommy Woodard, also a defensive co-captain, as the "outstanding player on the field" against Rice. "It was his best game since he has been here," Royal said of the Abilene senior.

Royal recounted that Woodard's jarring tackle forced a Rice fumble to set up Texas' second touchdown and his pass interception set up the third score. He also made a key third down tackle on a pass completion that forced Rice to kick a field goal and dropped Owl quarterback Philip Wood for a fourth loss on fourth and three at the Texas 14-yard line.

Rumors as the Owls and he's never had such a bad start, but that's going to change. "You can put that down," he said.

The only thing that can keep us from succeeding is not keeping our freshmen in school and not being able to recruit," he said.

And for the guy wondering just where the Rice football team is, Peterson says, "Speed is the name of the game and we're a step behind."

Not to mention being located in Texas.

Bobcat B Team Blanks Fairview There 17-0

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer
Although plagued by some odd penalties and an occasion to see the temper flair, the Hope Bruins dominated the Fairview game and came home with an impressive 17-0 victory over the Cardinals.

The victory raises the B-team record to 2-1 for the year and they host Arkadelphia next Monday night in Hammons Stadium at 7:30 p.m.

Kicking off to Fairview, the Bruin defense was steadily pushed back in their own territory until the ball reached the Bruin 24 yard line. Then Hope dug in and allowed only one more yard to be made in the next four plays.

For the next few minutes both teams traded the football until the Bruins took possession with 1:42 left in the first stanza.

Starting play from the Cardinal 42 yard line after a Fairview punt, on the first play, quarterback Buddy Ingram 1 t Melvin Weston for a 42 yard touchdown pass with 1:32 left in the first period. The PAT attempt was unsuccessful but the Bruins held a 6-0 lead, almost ready to move into the second period.

Holding Fairview at bay on the ensuing kickoff, the Hope offense took the ball at their own 28 yard line following a Cardinal punt and began grinding out the yardage with the aid of two passes for 35 yards. On third and goal at the one yard line, Bud Martin was given the call, and he carried around right end for the score and a 14-0 lead with 4:42 left in the half after Ingram hit Gary Rhodes for the two point conversion.

Three minutes later, a fumble recovery by Hope gave the Bruins excellent field position at the Fairview 34.

With the aid of a penalty, the Bruins moved down to the Cardinal nine yard line, where on third down and nine yards to go with just eight seconds left in the half, Ingram booted three points through the goalpost to give Hope a commanding 17-0 lead at halftime.

Coming out in the second half, the Bruins main objective was to play harder and not have a letdown after such a good first half—and they did just that.

With both teams exchanging

Unitas Unable to Overcome the Vikings

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Ed Sharockman grimly remembered what he called the early days of the Minnesota Vikings when Johnny Unitas and the Baltimore Colts passed.

But Sharockman, and such an inanimate object as the goal post, doused Baltimore's touchdown flames Monday night, 10-3, in a National Football League defensive struggle decided in the final minute.

Unitas, who came into the game with 10:35 to play and the Colts down 10-0, grazed the underside of the goalpost on a fourth down play from the Minnesota two with 42 seconds to play. Ed Hinton, the intended receiver, was open but couldn't get to the ball that fluttered short of his diving attempt.

That was one of six times Baltimore reached the doorstep but couldn't climb in except for Jim O'Brien's 40-yard field goal in the fourth period. Sharockman helped stop three of the efforts.

Sharockman, a 10-year veteran from Pittsburgh also intercepted a Morrall pass at the Baltimore 29 to set up Minnesota's touchdown—a two-yard run by Dave Osborn.

With the help of the goalpost, Sharockman and the Vikings strengthened their hold on the NFL Central Division lead with a 5-1 record. The loss dropped the Colts, who won the total offense battle 276-153, behind Miami in the AFC-East with a 4-2 record.

Unitas said he had to improvise on the goal post play, which could have set off a wild controversy that Hinton caught the ball. A ball deflecting the post is ruled a dead ball.

The Vikings' offense never really got untracked until Gary "uozzo," a former Colt, passed 26 yards to Oscar Reed and 20 yards to Stu Voigt to set up a 32-yard field goal by Fred Cox in the third period.

O'Brien, who had kicked 11 straight regular season field goals without a miss, was off target for the first time in 1971 with a 45-yard attempt in the second period. A holding penalty also nullified a 36-yard Morrall to Hinton pass to the Viking two in the same quarter.

UA President in Apology to Texas Band

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The president of the University of Arkansas termed the slugging of a University of Texas bandman by an apparently intoxicated Razorback fan "an unpardonable action."

Dr. David W. Mullins said Monday that steps were being taken to prevent any similar incident in the future.

The incident allegedly happened following a football game in Little Rock between Arkansas and Texas Oct. 16.

"This was an unpardonable action on the part of an unidentified individual and the University of Arkansas can in no way condone such behavior," he said.

World Light Heavy Title at Stake

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Vicente Rondon stars tonight in "Act One" of the world light heavyweight boxing championship, crawling into the ring a juicy 8-to-1 favorite against old-timer Gomeo Brennan.

Bob Foster moves onstage later this week.

"We can settle this confused title," said Rondon's manager, Felix Zabala. "All the Foster people must do is guarantee at least $100,000 and we'll have ourselves a showdown."

Foster handlers have offered $60,000.

The light heavyweight picture became muddled in January when the World Boxing Association stripped Foster of the title, claiming the Tampa, Fla., fighter inadequately defended the crown.

Rondon kayoed Jimmy DuPre in Caracas Feb. 27 to capture the vacant WBA championship, but Foster remains recognized in areas not governed by the association.

"This is no title fight," Foster said of the Rondon-Brennan match at Miami Beach Convention Hall. "I'm still the champion. Nobody takes the crown until they beat me ... in the ring."

Foster risks his share of the glory Saturday night in Scranton, Pa., against schoolteacher Tommy Hicks in "Act Two" of the listic drama.

Rondon, 27-year-old son of a Venezuelan fruit picker, has a 34-5-1 record for his pro career. Since knocking out DuPre for the title, Rondon has defended successfully against Piero Del Papa and Eddie "Bossman" Jones.

Brennan, 34, moved to the United States 20 years ago from his native Bimini where

Richardson May Play Saturday

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Running back Jon Richardson may be able to play Saturday's football game between the University of Arkansas and Texas A&M at Little Rock.

Richardson worked out with the Razorbacks in sweat suits for the first time since he was injured in the Hog's third game of the season. Richardson fractured a nonweight supporting bone in his left leg.

Coach Frank Broyles said Richardson should play Saturday but "it will depend on how sore Jon is after Tuesday's workout."

Gomeo learned to defend himself in "battle royals" against Bahamian pals. They battled blindfolded until only one was left standing.

"All the Bahamas will be watching their first chance ever at a world championship," said the two-time British Empire middleweight king.

Rondon predicted, "I'll knock him out by the eighth round."

A crowd of 5,000 was anticipated at Miami Beach Convention Hall, paying a $20 top with Rondon to receive 40 per cent of the gate and Brennan 20 per cent.

Purvis Boys Meet Congressman Pryor

Left to right: Tom Purvis, Joe Purvis and Congressman Pryor. October 15 and 16 Tom Purvis, who attends the Arkansas Children's Colony in Conway, was guest singer at the annual Kennedy Foundation meeting for the Mentally Retarded. Tom was met in Washington, D.C. by his brother, Joe, who is in the military in Michigan. They are the sons of Tom Purvis of Hope and the late Martha Purvis. While in Washington they were guests of the Arkansas Delegation at a luncheon in the House of Representatives dining room. Here they are shown with Congressman David Pryor of Camden.

Gilbert Off to Best Year in NHL Play

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League's scoring race looks ever so familiar today with Boston's Phil Esposito on top and Bobby Orr of the Bruins pressing for the lead. What's not so familiar about it is that, squeezed in between the two Boston hot-shots is New York's Rod Gilbert, off to the best start of his 10-year NHL career. "I'm in the middle of Esposito and Orr," said Gilbert, chuckling. "I don't think they'll like that." Esposito, who set an all-time record last year with 76 goals and 152 points to win his second scoring title, has 16 points so far this season, six of them on goals. That's two better than Gilbert's 14 points and four ahead of Orr, who won the scoring title with 120 points two years ago. That's fast company for Gilbert and he's enjoying it, thank you. "We had a couple of high-scoring games," the flashy right winger said, "and that's how come I got so many points. But I think you'll see us playing a little more defensively from now on." Defense has been the key for the Rangers who won the Vezina Trophy by allowing the fewest goals in the NHL last season. Emile Francis, general manager and coach of the team, prefers a close-checking style of game and the Rangers are molded as that kind of team. Still, you have to score goals to win games and that's where Gilbert fits in. The Rangers have scored 30 this year and Gilbert and linemates Vic Hadfield and Jean Ratelle have accounted for 14 of them. This is the sixth season the trio has operated together and they seem better than ever.

Celtics Count on Bench Experience

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, who won 11 National Basketball Association championships with Bill Russell and a flock of other talent, are counting upon bench experience for a "now" future. After missing the playoffs the last two years with Russell in retirement, the Celtics are sporting a new-old look under Coach Tommy Heinsohn, a former Boston star. Heinsohn, given solid backing by his old coach, Red Auerbach, now the Celtics' president and general manager, has molded youth with experience—and the team is flying with four consecutive victories after an opening loss. The Celtics, who lack great height, fell 14 points behind the tall Atlanta Hawks in the first period, but bounced back Monday for a 136-116 romp before a matinee crowd of 10,311 at the Garden. It was the only NBA game scheduled. Captain John Havlicek, a super star with nine years as a Boston pro, prevented Atlanta from making the game a runaway. Sophomore pro Dave Cowens provided plenty of help. Art Williams and Tom Sanders, a couple of 32-year-old veterans, came off the bench to provide the big spark. And so did Don Nelson, a youthful 31. Havlicek, 31, began the real cutting of Atlanta's lead with three baskets early in the second period. Williams turned in a magnificent defensive effort, stealing the ball three times within a minute. Sanders, an 11-year veteran sidelined most of last season after knee surgery, was fantastic. Entering the game with the Celtics trailing by seven points in the fifth minute of the second period, he hit on two long set shots. Satch raced around the court like a rookie, putting Boston in front to stay with a layup. He also blocked two layup tries in a row by Walt Bellamy. Why with myself, Nelson and Williams on the bench, that must add up to about 60 years of experience," Sanders said. "The Celtics always depended on bench strength, and now we're adding another one. There's a lot of experience to call upon when needed." Cowens, who dives away height at 6-9, topped Boston scorers with 21 points, also grabbing 10 rebounds. Havlicek scored 20. The Hawks, who had a 41-point first period wasted in their fifth loss in six starts, were topped by Heinsohn with 25 points and Lou Hudson with 15.

Anti-war Protesters Rained Out

By JAY PERKINS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-war protesters, their first day of demonstrations virtually washed out by rain, plan to march on the White House today to serve President Nixon with an eviction notice. Rennie Davis, a leader in the People's Coalition for Peace and Justice, sponsor of the protest, told about 400 youths Monday night permits for the march had been denied. The crowd roared its approval when asked if they should march anyway and Davis declared: "We should figure on massive civil disobedience at the White House." Meanwhile, in Killeen, Tex., a Veterans Day march Monday to protest the Indochina war ended when police arrested 112 servicemen, their wives and other supporters near Ft. Hood. Most of the demonstrators were charged with parading without a permit. In Birmingham, Ala., 100 extra policemen watched as 10,000 persons marched before 250,000 spectators in what was billed as the nation's largest Veterans Day parade. Only minor incidents were reported. Davis was one of several speakers who addressed the activists Monday after their planned rally at the Washington Monument and a candlelight march near the White House had been rained out. The group also planned to receive a trans-Atlantic phone call from the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong negotiators at the Paris peace talks before the march to the White House. But the chilling rain, which started about noon and continued into the night, sent the young demonstrators scattering to various churches and universities in Washington and it was almost 6 p.m. before they could be assembled again. Davis told the crowd to meet at the Washington Monument about noon today for speeches, rock music and the trans-Atlantic phone call. He said the march on the White House would begin about three hours later. Also addressing the crowd Monday night was civil rights activist Hosea Williams, who said the issue of Vietnam must be kept alive.

FHA Operating Loan Funds Available

Harold Foster, County Supervisor, Hempstead announced today that funds are available to farmers for making adjustments and improvements in their farm and home operations necessary for successful farming, to buy livestock, equipment, pay operating expenses and refinance debts. Each operating loan is tailored to the individual borrower's need. The Farmers Home Administration supervisory personnel assists the borrower in analyzing his resources plus those obtained by loans for the best use. Loans are made through the county offices of the Farmers Home Administration serving rural areas of the United States. All loans are accompanied by technical assistance in farm and financial management. The interest rate is six and three-eighths percent per year on the unpaid principal. Each loan is scheduled for repayment within a period consistent with the borrower's annual ability to repay. Funds advanced for operating expenses are repaid when the crops, livestock, or livestock products produced during the year are sold. Funds loaned for productive livestock and for farm equipment may be scheduled for repayment over periods from one to seven years. Eligibility of applicants for FHA loans is determined by the County FHA Committee which consists of three local persons that are familiar with FHA loan requirements and local farming and credit conditions in the county. Mr. Foster stated that anyone interested in this type credit assistance in Hempstead County may make application through his office located in the Federal Building, Hope, Arkansas. The office is open from Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Senate Battle Shaping Dock Workers Ordered to Return

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fight to slash America's money to the United Nations for expelling Taiwan was shaping in the Senate today with more advance votes lined up against it than for it. Sen. James L. Buckley, Con.-R.N.Y., announced immediately after the 75-35 U.N. expulsion vote Monday night that he is drafting legislation for a "major reduction" of the U.S. financial contribution. An effort to tack the fund cut onto the foreign aid bill before the Senate in the next two weeks is a possibility, his office said. "This will do no more than reflect a major downgrading of the U.S.N.'s role in the eyes of most Americans," Buckley said in a statement issued in New York. Buckley and 20 other senators issued a declaration last month that the United States should "reassess its financial and moral support of the United Nations" if Taiwan was ousted, but 32 senators issued a letter Monday denouncing a fund cut. Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., charging America was handed the defeat after paying 35 per cent of the United Nations' support, joined Buckley's drive. Senate and House Republican leaders Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Gerald R. Ford of Michigan issued a statement over the weekend saying the United Nations could not expect the degree of its present U.S. support if it expelled Taiwan. But the 32 senators repudiating Buckley's cut included Republican National Chairman Robert Dole of Kansas and all four major potential Democratic presidential contenders—Sens. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, George S. McGovern of South Dakota and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota. Three-fourths of the House, 336 members, joined 67 senators in urging that Taiwan be kept in the United Nations but only 33 House members joined the 21 senators in suggesting U.S. money be cut if Chiang Kai-shek's government was expelled.

Enemy Hits North of Saigon

By GEORGE ESPEL
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong made five small attacks north of Saigon today and Monday, including a daylight ambush of a U.S. convoy.

Eighteen South Vietnamese troops, one U.S. soldier and one of the enemy were reported killed, and 17 South Vietnamese and two U.S. soldiers were wounded.

Two of the three 10-ton trucks in the American convoy were destroyed when about 40 of the enemy opened fire with mortars, bazooka-type rockets, machine guns and rifles this morning 50 miles northeast of Saigon. Enemy losses were not known.

A South Vietnamese convoy carrying a payroll of between $7,000 and $10,000 to a forward camp was ambushed 40 miles north of Saigon and eight soldiers were killed. A Jeep was destroyed and two trucks were heavily damaged, but reports from the field said ground reinforcements, artillery and helicopter gunships drove the enemy off and saved the payroll.

Enemy casualties were not known.

Five miles to the south, Viet Cong sappers slipped into an outpost manned by about 30 government militiamen. Hurling Satchel charges and grenades, they killed eight militiamen and wounded eight others, then fled, apparently without any casualties.

Viet Cong gunners fired 25 rounds of mortars and rocket grenades into a hamlet 45 miles north of Saigon, killing two Vietnamese, wounding four and badly wounding the office of the hamlet government.

A terrorist threw a hand grenade into a police station in Tam Binh village, seven miles north of Saigon, wounding five persons. The terrorist escaped.

1st Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, commander of the 3rd Military Region, said that four regiments of about 2,500 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong have been ordered to increase attacks in the region, which includes Saigon and 11 surrounding provinces.

In Saigon, the Jeep of a U.S. adviser to the national police was firebombed and damaged. No one was injured. It was the 36th U.S. military or civilian vehicle firebombed in Saigon since early September. All are believed the work of students protesting the American military presence in Vietnam and the U.S. government's support of President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Along South Vietnam's northern coast, U.S. and South Vietnamese troops continued a massive relief and rebuilding operation in the wake of killer Typhoon Hester. Government officials put the Vietnamese death toll from the typhoon Saturday at 100 and estimated that 200,000 persons were homeless. They said more than 55,000 homes were damaged or destroyed, more than 45 per cent of the food crop was wiped out and 40 per cent of the livestock were killed.

ROMANCE OF THE SEA has not disappeared entirely yet—not even in the ultramodern Soviet navy. The three-masted training ship "Tovarisch" makes a gracefully non-Marxist call at Valetta, chief harbor of the Mediterranean island of Malta which has been using its strategically located facilities in a naval power play with both East and West recently. A pre-World War II German ship, it was taken over by the Soviets as war reparations.

Gunman of Vatican Not Sinister

By PIERO DE GARAROLLI
Associated Press Writer
VATICAN CITY (AP) —

They call him "the Vatican gunman."

"Nothing sinister about that," explains Carlo Gaddi, a six-footer who has a black belt in judo. "It fits me perfectly."

Gaddi is a papal chair bearer, one of the select group of 12 men who carry the Pope on their shoulders in his portable throne during audiences and ceremonies.

He is also a movie actor who always plays the villain in Italian thrillers and westerns.

"It's not my fault if I have the face of a bad guy," says Gaddi. "My three kids have yet to see one of my movies here I don't get shot."

Gaddi was born in the tiny papal city-state 35 years ago. His father was dean of the private household for Popes Pius X and Benedict XV.

Gaddi became an Italian citizen when he was 21 and for 11 years was a securities trader on the Rome stock exchange.

"I got into the movies by chance," he recalls. "A friend offered me a small part as a gangster. I was on the screen a few minutes, just time to draw my guns and get shot. Critics said my death was very realistic, so here I am, the man who never lived to the end of a motion picture."

Gaddi has acted in about 20 movies, with such stars as Sophia Loren, Horst Buchholz and Sylvia Koscina.

"I don't mind always being the villain," he said, "but I would like to play a decent man just once."

Gaddi serves at the Vatican without pay.

"Ours is strictly an honorary job," he says, "one of the few not taken away when the pontiff dies."

"Each bearer carries a weight of about 50 pounds, walking six or four on each side. The trick is to keep the throne perfectly level with the ground."

Pope John XXIII shunned the portable throne whenever he could.

"He simply did not like it," said Gaddi. "I have the impression he was afraid of falling down. He would grasp the arm rests and not let go until it was all over."

"Once we carried him up the steps of the Basilica of St. Mary Major. We did it perfectly without tilting the chair. When we were ready to take him back down, Pope John said: 'You did a great job, thank you, but I will walk.'"

Some Strange Questions on Weather

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —

"Who owns the clouds?" The question was posed by Dr. Louis Battan of the University of Arizona's Institute of Atmospheric Physics.

"If I take my share of rain from a cloud and you don't get yours, what happens?" Battan asked Monday at a meeting of the National Biological Congress.

"These are questions that become real as weather modification becomes real."

During a discussion of man's attempts to control the weather, Battan said there were some forms of weather modification to which no one would object.

"As far as I know, the tornado does no good whatsoever, and it kills a lot of people," the Arizona meteorologist said.

"But even in hail suppression research, there are differences of opinion."

"The wheat farmer doesn't want hail on his crops, but the cattle rancher doesn't care if it falls in 200-pound blocks as long as it doesn't hit his cows. He just wants the water."

Dr. Cecil Gentry of the National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration also provided a question with a potentially sticky answer.

In Project Stormfury which he heads, scientists have succeeded in reducing the strength of hurricanes by bombing them with chemicals, but they are wary that their efforts might cause the big storms to change direction, Gentry said.

Then he asked: "If a hurricane headed for New Orleans was seeded and then headed for Galveston, Tex., who pays the bill for the damage, who comforts Galveston?"

The right to make rain became a real problem for residents of South Florida during a prolonged drought last winter and spring.

Federal scientists succeeded in producing rain with cloud seeding operations. The rain eased drought conditions, but it also drew complaints from tomato growers that it could destroy their ripe crops.

Rioting in N. Ireland Continues

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops quelled a riot in an internment camp Monday and stopped a group of IRA men who tried to escape during the confusion.

The trouble at the Longkesh camp, 12 miles from Belfast, started with a protest against living conditions by about 250 inmates who seized four guards as hostages.

Masses of prisoners ran toward the wire wall surrounding the camp, but troops from a nearby camp moved in to drive them back. The battle lasted two hours.

A dining hall and a recreation hall was set afire and the army said a number of internees suffered head injuries. It did not report any casualties among the troops.

The camp was opened in August to house persons suspected as members of the Irish Republican Army, rounded up by British troops and Ulster constabulary and held without charges. The men claim that the living facilities are inadequate.

Earlier in the day, a woman was hospitalized after exchanging shots with British troops on an arms search in West Belfast. Another was hit by plainclothes police who said she was part of a team that planted a bomb in a crowded nightclub Sunday night. Her male companion was shot and killed.

Security forces said the IRA is using girl guerrillas in front-line action because its manpower has been depleted by casualties and internment.

On Saturday, two sisters were killed by British troops in an IRA stronghold in Belfast. The army said the women were in a car from which shots were fired at British troops. Friends of the women denied this and said they were sounding a foghorn to warn residents of searching troops.

Finds It Takes More Than Money to Marry Off Your Daughter

By LEE LINDER

Associated Press Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — If you think all it takes to marry off a daughter is money, you're wrong.

You also need a groom, and he's got to be at the wedding—which is where I ran into problems.

To get the whole happy expensive mess into proper focus we turn back to last year after my miss and her fella, senior classmates at Temple University, got engaged and set the date.

He had just joined the Army Reserves and was awaiting call-up for five months of active duty, hoping to time it to make the wedding, finish some courses for a B.A. degree and start law school.

Weeks passed, then months, but no Army orders.

Time was critical. Too late an Army reporting date would mean my prospective son-in-law would miss classes and the wedding date.

"You know people," my worried wife said. "Call the Army, call your senator, call anybody."

I already had, zeroing in on the Defense Department and its military red tape through Pennsylvania's two U.S. senators, Hugh Scott and Richard Schweiker. After all, the young man wasn't trying to get out of the Army, he was trying to get in and having no luck.

My wife was getting frantic, and so was my daughter. The caterer, the florist, the photographer and the orchestra leader also might have been concerned if they knew the dilemma and how it might cut them out of a big payoff in a cancellation or elopement.

About this time a year ago, President Nixon was on the election trail and planning a quick Pennsylvania stopover at Lancaster to plug a candidate for governor who never made it. I took the missus along on the assignment hoping to get her mind off a wedding still seven months away.

Good thinking? Well . . . not exactly the way it was originally figured. Women just won't listen.

When the President, after his speech, moved past newsmen on the way to the White House helicopter, my wife stuck out a hand to say hello, and Nixon grabbed it. She wouldn't let go.

"Mr. President, can you help a young man get called to active duty in the Army?" she asked—a determined mother, cool, calm and collected.

That demolished me, usually cool, calm and collected. "Who is this young man?" Nixon asked.

"The man my daughter is going to marry," which intrigued the President even more and increased my embarrassment as he pursued the topic.

My wife explained the Army delay and finalized her concern with a touch of diplomacy: "You know how it is with daughters."

Nodding (no kidding) the President suggested she write to his military aide, which she did. And I kept prodding my senators, who kept prodding the Pentagon, and the orders finally came—on time. And nobody took any credit because I'm certain the Army did it all by itself.

So now you think everyone lived happily ever after? Not quite.

First, the Army lost the young man's travel orders. Then he had to sweat out a two-week leave scheduled in the middle of his training, which he didn't want, and finally was able to stay on duty.

Finally he finished training and came home a week before he had to answer wedding bells.

Okay? Not okay. My daughter cried because the Army cut her guy's hair too short. "Sorry," I said, "the President can't do a thing about it."

Pointexter Named Top HRD Job Administrator

Edward W. Pointexter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pointexter, all former residents of Hope, has been appointed as the top employment administrator in four Southern California counties, it was announced by a Reagan administration official.

The official, Louis J. Johnson, deputy director of the Department of Human Resources Development (HRD), said Pointexter is now in charge of manpower programs in Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, and northern Los Angeles Counties.

"Pointexter's appointment results from an organizational change," Johnson said. "The supervision of all HRD field offices in the four counties is now simplified," he said. Pointexter has been in state service since 1964, according to Johnson. "His ability has carried him up through the ranks," he said.

Pointexter was previously manager of the South Central Los Angeles State Service Center, Johnson said. Before joining HRD, he served in the California Youth Authority, and through promotions rose to district supervisor of parole agents in the Department of Corrections, he said.

As manager of the State Service Center in Watts, Pointexter was deeply involved in activities concerning community development and equal opportunities, Johnson said.

Pointexter said that "my goal is to improve HRD services in the area I will administer to employers, applicants, minorities, youth, veterans-in-fact, to every resident."

His office is in Los Angeles although Pointexter said "This means a lot of driving to visit the HRD offices that I supervise."

Pointexter was graduated from Philander Smith College, Little Rock, Arkansas with a degree in history, Sacramento State College with a degree in sociology, and the McGeorge College of Law. He and his wife, Dorothy, have four children.
